Government agencies and accreditation bodies are calling for greater measuring and reporting capabilities for learning outcomes. The Pearson eCollege Learning Outcome Manager (LOM) makes an immense stride toward that goal.

Improve Educational Quality through Learning Outcome Management

Government agencies and accreditation bodies are calling for greater measuring and reporting capabilities for learning outcomes. The Pearson eCollege Learning Outcome Manager (LOM) makes an immense stride toward that goal.

Evidence for Accreditation and Program Improvement

More than ever before, institutions are being asked to provide evidence that students graduating from their programs are achieving the educational goals defined for them. Additionally, colleges, universities and other educational institutions are looking for specific forms of data to help them develop strategies for effectively improving the success of their programs.

The Pearson eCollege Learning Outcome Manager helps learning institutions address the need for evidence of student achievement and allow institutions to improve learning with evidence-based decisions.

Tracking and Assessing Learning Outcomes

Pearson eCollege’s Learning Outcome Manager provides a central repository for storing, managing and analyzing an institution’s learning outcomes. These managed outcomes allow institutions to track and assess multiple levels of educational performance.

By providing organized learning outcomes at all levels—student, course, department, school and institutional levels—Learning Outcome Manager provides a comprehensive picture of learning development and achievement throughout the program. This allows institutions to assess and demonstrate the effectiveness of their programs.

This powerful approach to improving educational quality provides the following:

- Central repository for storing and managing outcomes.
- Ability to tie learning outcomes to content (exams, assignments and discussions).
- Reports for measuring student performance against expected outcomes.
Learning Outcome Manager

Building a Culture of Assessment

Learning Outcome Manager (LOM) helps educators build a culture of assessment by giving faculty and administrators a set of tools for writing and organizing learning statements (typically based on various professional or national accreditation standards), identifying the courses and programs that map to these statements, and creating and storing rubrics for scoring/grading assignments that are associated with these learning statements. All of these elements are stored in a central repository.

Learning Outcome Manager also has an in-course reporting functionality for analyzing and tracking student performance against learning statements. These reports and the central repository itself can be utilized during reaccreditation visits as solid evidence that your institution is improving courses and programs over time based on student performance.

With Learning Outcome Manager, institutions can analyze and track student performance against defined learning outcomes at multiple enterprise levels.

Managing Student Learning Outcomes for Accreditation Review and Program Improvement

By providing an organized structure for defined learning outcomes, institutions can make the first step toward effectively reporting on their learning standards. LOM's repository and reporting capabilities allow institutions to quickly respond to accreditation reviews with reports that adhere to accreditation standards. Additionally, LOM enables institutions to analyze their learning results and develop data-informed strategies to continuously improve program performance. Overall, LOM helps institutions meet the increased demands for performance visibility.
What are Outcomes?

Open Outcomes

Outcomes enables the administration and faculty to track students’ progress as measured by pedagogical goals or desired outcomes.

Assessments created to test student knowledge or to require students to demonstrate a specific skill resulting from a learning activity can be aligned to learning outcomes using rubrics (which can be used for grading simultaneously).

Grading student work automatically collects and compiles data on student progress for the Outcomes. The data is available for reporting to support teaching improvement, identify at-risk students, and support the accreditation process. This unified, streamlined approach dramatically reduces the amount of work required to implement Learning Outcomes through the intelligent reuse of assessment workflows in the grading process.

What is an Instructional Objective?

"An instructional objective is a collection of words and/or pictures and diagrams intended to let others know what you intend for your students to achieve.

- It is related to intended outcomes, rather than process for achieving those outcomes.
- It is specific and measurable, rather than broad and intangible.
- It is concerned with students, not teachers."

Goals:

1) Improve the success rate of African-American students in pre-college English courses by a minimum of 6% per year through 2008-09.

2) Improve the success rate of African-American students in ENGL 1 (college-level) by a minimum of 2-3% per year through 2008-09.

9) Improve monitoring of information about ESL Workshops, Supplemental Instruction and related services offered at the Academic Success Center will be designed to improve success rates identified in this element of the Student Equity Plan. As noted by the plan authors, “[O]ne current study of SCC students suggest that although instructors know student study groups to be very effective, many students, especially those in their first or second semesters, do not recognize the value of outside study groups.” The ASC will not only provide a centralized location for student study groups, it will also promote the opportunities and benefits of group learning. Coordination with Puente, First Year Experience and similar campus programs will build greater student awareness of the benefits of engaging in study groups/activities outside of class.

ACTIVITIES.

Goal 1: Improve the success rate of African-American students in both pre-college level and college level English courses.

4. Increase opportunities for outside of class student study group formation. One current study of SCC students suggest that although instructors know student study groups to be very effective, many students, especially those in their first or second semesters, do not recognize the value of outside study groups.

Proposal Rationale and Benefits

Use this section to talk about why the proposal is necessary and what the wider benefits are. These may be things like increasing student success, increased efficiency of paperwork or processes, financial savings to the district. You may also add additional details about how the proposal supports the mission of the college or the core competencies.

The Academic Success Center will be a single hub where students can access a variety of support services including tutoring, study skills training, supplemental instruction, success workshops, first year experience, career placement, and transfer. Information about transfer, transportation, etc. will also be available along with appropriate service referrals. Guidance for workforce training and career planning will also be provided.

According to “Practices That Promote Equity in Basic Skills,” adopted in 2010 by the Academic Senate for California Community Colleges, it is important to have, “clearly defined student pathways with flexibility to address basic skills gaps.” The workshops and services that will be provided by the ASC will address these skills gaps in ways that do not impede student success or require additional semesters of enrollment or costs.

Additionally, the District’s Student Equity Plan (2004) notes that, “[T]he following student support services currently assist students in their efforts to complete certificate and degree requirements: counseling, financial aid, employment, tutoring, assessment, career services, transfer services, SUCCESS Consortium, Extended Opportunities Programs & Services, student development program, student health services, veterans services, wellness program, New Horizons Program, MESA Program, Children’s Program, Puente Program, and Disability Services Program.” Clearly, the college is dedicated to serving a range of programs and services designed to increase student access and success. However, these programs and services operate or are “housed” in locations throughout the campus. Currently, there is no centralized place for students to go to directly access or obtain information about these services and programs, which essentially creates a barrier for students. The Academic Success Center (ASC) is efficient because it provides a holistic approach to addressing a variety of students needs and interests without requiring that they independently locate services currently scattered throughout the campus. The ASC will also create a stronger sense of community by being a place where students can gather to collaborate on coursework, learn new skills, and get information about new opportunities.

Proposal Delivery

Use this section to explain why your proposal is the most efficient way to deliver the outcomes of the proposal. If alternative methods to deliver the project results have been considered note them here also.

Solano College BSI Committee Proposal Form

Date this form is filled out: May 13, 2012

Strategy Title: SCC Online Writing Center

Lead Person’s Name: Christopher McBride
Lead Person’s Phone: X4360
Lead Person’s email: Christopher.mcbride@solano.edu Component (see Legend): A, S, T.

Legend (Component to which the lead person(s) belong): A = Academic Affairs, B = Admin & Business Services; H = Human Resources; P = President’s Office; S = Student Services; T = Technology & Learning Resources

List units/departments that will be involved:
Liberal Arts, Academic Affairs

STRATEGY’S RATIONALE: (Explain in detail why your proposal is needed.)

At Solano College, we have a range of students with varying skills sets. However, one common point is that our students need assistance with basic skills. As a component of academic success, sound reading and writing skills are critical. Since all of our students, even those in transfer-level classes, need some assistance in English, I am proposing an Online Writing Center for SCC that will give our students a common location for accessing supplemental material related to reading and writing. The most recent Accreditation Report notes these points:

- In order to meet the standards, the Accreditation team recommends that the College develop a plan to provide equitable access to appropriate, comprehensive, and reliable services to students who are taking classes at the Vacaville and Vallejo Centers and online. Increased funding and staffing for the libraries at the two centers should be a priority. This plan should also include a regular evaluation of the services. (Standards II.B.3.a, II.C.1)

- In order to meet the standards, the team recommends that the College develop mechanisms and learning support systems to ensure that students enrolled in distance education courses are achieving stated learning outcomes at a level comparable with students enrolled in onsite programs and courses. (Standard II.A.1.b-c)

In addition, data shows that the majority of our students will enroll in at least one pre-transfer level course at SCC. Moreover, the RP Group report suggests that community colleges need to consider all students as needing instruction in some aspect of Basic Skills. If we look at the profile of a typical student in English 1, English 2, or English 4, he or she has most likely come through our Basic Skills English program. Therefore, Basic Skills resources are a critical element of our work at SCC and having writing and grammar materials available would assist all of our students and help with addressing the most recent ACCJC recommendations.

An Online Writing Center would be a significant asset for our SCC students. It is clear that there is need for assistance with writing at SCC, and the sort of repository offered by an Online Writing Center would help to address some of our students’ needs. As the project expands, the Writing Center could be scaled forward to offer tutoring for Basic Skills students. Such a Writing Center could also be linked to an on-campus Writing Center and/or Success Center in the future.

STRATEGY’S DESCRIPTION: (Specify in detail how and what you will accomplish.)

I am proposing that the College begin development of an Online Writing Center for our students. Such a center could begin by providing support to students in both on-campus and online courses in order to address Recommendations #6 and #8 in the Accreditation Team report. In its initial form, the Online Writing Center could be made available to all students by offering worksheets, formatting guidelines, sample essays, tutorials, and instructional videos (including those created by SCC English Instructor Pat Vogelpohl as part of our past BSI funding). If funding can be increased, the Online Writing Center could then offer tutorial services for writing assignments in the future. This broader Writing Center could be staffed by a combination of faculty, staff, and student tutors. The Online Writing Center would initially be developed through our current LMS, eCollege, but development could be done in such a way as to facilitate conversion to Canvas, or for direct web access. In addition, the Online Writing Center could eventually become a significant component of our proposed Academic Success Center.

I would like to begin development of the Online Writing Center during the summer of 2012. Resources could then be made available to students during the Fall 2012 semester. For models, the Purdue Online Writing Center (http://owl.english.purdue.edu/) or SUNY Empire State Writing Center (http://www.esc.edu/online-writing-center/) provide some insights into what such an Online Writing Center might look like.

In Fall 2012, the Online Writing Center would be available for all students and faculty. All students will have access to the Writing Center materials and this will allow for easy referrals from faculty and staff. I would also provide information on the Online Writing Center to faculty in all disciplines on campus.
This would allow for quick referrals when a student has a question about specific writing issues. While the materials in the Online Writing Center would be created to assist Basic Skills Students, all SCC students would benefit. Moreover, since the Vallejo and Vacaville campuses do not have the writing/grammar handouts that are available at the Main Campus, the Online Writing Center would give students and faculty who are not at our main campus the opportunity to access materials from anywhere.
This would help us to provide equitable assistance to all students.

ASSESSMENT OF RESULTS (Specify in detail how and when you will assess your results. Assessment of results is a requirement for continued BSI funding. If funding was used from BSI previously, then it is necessary to include detailed assessment information related to existing results.)

The Online Writing Center would be functional in the Fall of 2012. Assessment will be twofold: first, quantitative data will be gathered from students who use the lab for supplemental materials. This will include usage statistics and data on the number of students served. In addition, affective data will be gathered from both students and faculty to determine the efficacy of the Writing Center. If the data warrants expansion, further proposals will be made to increase funding of the Writing Center to serve an even broader student population. Such a larger-scale proposal could be made in the future through a campus-wide Strategic Proposal. Data from this initial phase could then be used as support. Assessment will be done periodically throughout the Fall 2012 semester.

LINKAGE TO STRATEGIC OBJECTIVE(S), EFFECTIVE PRACTICE AND STRATEGIES, EDUCATION MASTER PLAN GOALS, and/or STUDENT EQUITY PLAN GOALS:

Effective Practice and Strategies Linkage: (See List Below or refer to ccbsi.org for more details.)

A.5 A comprehensive system of support services exists, and is characterized by a high degree of integration among academic and student support services.

D.6 Developmental education faculty employ a variety of instructional methods to accommodate student diversity

D. 10 Programs provide comprehensive academic support mechanisms, including the use of trained tutors

Educational Master Plan Goal Linkage:

Online Learning: The current program will need to be able to reliably support additional users, provide responsive support and instruction to faculty, and expand to meet growing demand.

The Humanities Division (Liberal Arts) will continue to be at the core of SCCD’s mission and support educational needs in almost all other programs.

Quality Teaching and Learning: Identify core skills, such as writing, analysis, comprehension, information literacy, and technology that are necessary and beneficial for all students, and integrate these skills into all curriculums.

Student Goals: Approach student needs and goals in a flexible and holistic manner to encourage success and ensure that the education tracks that students choose meet their true objectives.

Student Equity Plan Goal Linkage:

- Increase course completion rates for African-Americans, Latinos, Native-Americans, and students with disabilities, especially in basic skills courses.
- Improve the success rate of African-Americans and DSP students in pre-collegiate level and college-level English courses.
- Increase the transfer rate of all ethnic groups.
  - Respond to the shifting diversity of the population by increasing access and equity to programs and courses.

List of Effective Practices and Strategies from BSI: (Please refer to the other attachment or cccbsi.org to include sub categories.)

- A: Organizational/Administrative Practices
- B: Program Components
- C: Faculty and Staff Development
- D: Instructional Practices

Fiscal Impact:

DISTANCE EDUCATION COMMITTEE

Draft

May 14, 2012
Room 101
2:30 p.m. – 4:00 p.m.

Dale called the meeting to order at 2:34 p.m.

Dale Crandall-Bear, Chair; Karen Cook; Jeffrey Lamb; Philip Petersen; Sandra Rotenberg; Robin Sytsma; Connie Adams
Absent/Excused: George Daugavietis; Marylou Fracisco; Scott Ota; Roy Pike; Philip Summers

1. Approval of Minutes – April 23, 2012
Motion to approve: Sandy; Seconded – Karen; Passed – Unanimous

2. Update of implementation of Pearson LMS arrangements

3. Update on Canvas Pilot

4. Program Review data for DE
Peter Cammish, Director of Research & Planning, gave a screen presentation which included the following points:

   • Data producing is in group “research” with files; click on “tabular workgroups”; go to “links”, and; download Tableau Reader software (PC only, not Mac friendly).
   • The course schedule data is direct from BANNER and there are some limitations or inaccuracies from that source.
   • Comparisons between subjects, cohorts, campuses etc. can be chosen. The table includes: retention, fill rate, FTS etc. with an average of subjects chosen. The second table on student courses from the Chancellor’s office addresses student success.
   • Peter took split courses (lecture/lab) to ensure students aren’t counted twice. If just comparing online, this shouldn’t be a problem.
   • It would be good for members to access the tables and forward input.

Dale requested this presentation today because DE will be looking at Program Review and it is important to begin thinking about the kind of data needed. Sandy pointed out that the Chancellor’s office data was way off and may not have been corrected. Peter would like to be notified by anyone finding incorrect data and he will check into it. He may also create an outline to find data

5. Accreditation Recommendation #6: Online Support Services
Dale was asked to address this topic by S/P Laguerre and it needs to be done by October. Funds will be made available for some faculty to work on this during the summer. A job description needs to be turned in to Susanna Gunther, incoming Senate President by 5 p.m. Jeff opined this could be a simple task
2.13 Course sequencing. Report on whether courses have been sequenced for student progression through the major, how students are informed of this progression, and the efficacy of this sequencing.

2.14 Student Survey (if applicable). Describe the student survey feedback related to course offerings. In terms of the timing, course offerings, and instructional format, how does what your program currently offer compare to student responses.

2.15 Four-year articulation (if applicable). Utilizing the most current data from the articulation officer, and tools such as ASSIST.org, state which of your courses articulate with the local four year institutions and whether additional courses should be planned for articulation.

2.16 High school articulation (if applicable). Describe the status of any courses with articulation/Tech Prep agreements at local high schools. What (if any) are your plans for increasing/strengthening ties with area high schools and advertising your program to prospective students.

2.17 Distance Education (if applicable). Describe the distance education courses offered in your program, and any particular successes or challenges with these courses. Discuss your program’s plans to expand or contract distance education offerings. State how you ensure your online courses are comparable to in-class offerings.

2.18 Advisory Boards/Licensing (CTE) (if applicable). Describe how program curriculum has been influenced by advisory board/licensing feedback. How often are advisory board meetings held, provide membership information and what specific actions have been taken. Attach minutes.

III. Student Equity & Success
Supplemental Questions for Online Courses
(For New Course Proposals and Review of Existing Online Courses)

The following questions are to be answered by the instructor proposing the course; please submit this form along with the course approval form and syllabus.

Date: ___________________________ Dept/Course # ___________________________
Instructor: ___________________________

1. What modes of instruction will be used, particularly those specific to technologically mediated instruction (e.g., moderated discussion lists, email, chat rooms, etc.)?

2. What specific pedagogical advantages does the technologically mediated format offer?

3. Describe the student orientations you will be offering. The Humanities Division strongly recommends mandatory in-person orientations. If you are taking a different approach, please describe.

4. Describe the methods you will use to provide instructor-initiated student contact. (such as email, live chat, video conferencing, in-person meetings, etc.). Explain how these methods will be integrated into your course.

5. Which methods of assessment listed on the official course outline are carried over into the online course? Describe how these and other graded activities are mediated through online technology.

6. In-person proctored exams are expected in all online courses offered by the Humanities Division. Please describe how you will be administering exams in your course. If you are not using in-person proctored exams, please describe a comparable method that will verify that students only receive credit for their own work.

7. Describe the mixture of instructor-authored course materials and publisher-generated materials in this course. Approximately what percentage of course content and assessment is generated by outside sources, (e.g., publishers, internet, etc.).

Present: Erin Vines, Barbara Fountain, Mostafa Ghous, Cynthia Simon, Robin, Ona Smith

1. Online Student Services:
   a. Discussed are objective was to explore the option of offering all Student Services online. Discussed that online services would be another means of access, but not intended to replace in person services. Many areas discussed that they already offer services online when needed.

2. Services that cannot be delivered online?
   a. Regulation:
      i. Erin asked that if a service cannot be offered on line to provide the regulation so that the group can work through any challenges. Robin had concerns with offering particular services online for concerns of fraud.

   b. Operational Challenge:
      i. Erin asked to provide operational challenges if services cannot be offered online so that committee can help areas work through challenges of possible.

3. Service Area online Goals for 2011-12
   a. Counseling
      i. All Services online Jan 2012

i. CalWORKs students are required to meet with the CalWORKs Coordinator/Counselor for intake, counseling, and county paperwork completion. At this time on-line services would present a challenge to the CalWORKs students and program.    ii. Second appointment according to Title 5, can be conducted by the EOPS counselor or a paraprofessional (me, peer advisors) EOPS Progress Reports are sent to students and EOPS counselors meet with the student to discuss their progress reports and resolve whether or not a student should add a mid-term class or drop the class if the student is not progressing in the class.

   iii. Finally, the third appointment is reviewing the class schedule with the student for the upcoming semester to help them prepare to register for classes according to the SEP.

h. A&R
   i. Petition for degree/cert-Part of 3 year plan. Will required Banner consulting assistance. Funding source not yet known. Students can currently email or fax these to us but we do not encourage due to the need to collect money.
