LaStar Brown

LaStar Brown is one of the best players in Solano Women's Basketball history. She played from 2000-2002 and finished as the program's 5th all-time career scorer with 952 points and 4th all time career rebounder with 612 rebounds. She holds the record for most assists in a single season with 188 and shares the all time single game assists record with 13. As a freshman LaStar was All Conference and All Nor-Cal and her play during her sophomore year earned her 2nd team All State honors and District 8 Kodak All American honorable mention.

Born and raised in San Francisco, LaStar came to Solano from Washington High and saw Solano's program during a coaching transition that saw Kim Gervasoni go to Arizona State and Matt Borchert take over as the new head coach. LaStar's numbers and incredible versatility earned her a scholarship to Oklahoma City University one of the top NAIA Division I women's basketball programs in the country. At Oklahoma City LaStar played in two NAIA DI National Championship games and earned her Bachelor's degree in Business Administration. She then took time to play professionally overseas in Puerto Rico and Brazil and had tryouts with Chicago, New York, and Seattle of the WNBA.

LaStar currently works for Kaiser in San Rafael in the radiology department as a technical trainee and will soon work with cancer patients on a daily basis doing radiation therapy. She is also currently playing running back and linebacker in the Professional Women's Football for the Bay Area Bandits. In 2011 she was newcomer of the year for the division and in 2012 she was named All American at the running back position along with making the All Defensive team.

Mike Campas

Mike Campas played two years of football and baseball at Solano. He was the starting quarterback and a team captain in football, and a starting pitcher and team captain on the baseball team. As a pitcher he was undefeated in league play, going 11-0 over the course of two seasons, and was selected to the All-Coast Conference Team in 1962. Upon his graduation from Solano, Mike was recruited by the coaches at San Francisco State College and went on to play two seasons as a starting pitcher for the “Gators,” and was a key contributor when they won the Far Western Conference Championship in 1963.

After receiving a Master's Degree in Physical Education and School Administration from S.F. State, Mike went on to teach and coach for 32 years at Tamalpais High School in Marin County.
Kevin Chaney

Kevin Chaney was Assistant Women’s Basketball Coach at Solano College from 1994-95 to 2002-2003. Kevin is one of the most dynamic people we have had in an assistant coaching role in any sport at Solano College. Along with his role as an assistant coach, Kevin also worked as an account manager for Gillette and as a basketball official throughout the local area. Kevin was the top assistant to Head Coach Kim Gervasoni in the years that Solano Women’s Basketball exploded on the scene and built a lasting tradition that continues today. With a fantastic personality Kevin helped recruit and mold the best teams in Solano Women’s Basketball history including three state tournament teams.

Kevin was also an active member of the SCC Booster club. In the mid 90’s the Solano Athletic Booster Club was just beginning to build and Kevin consistently volunteered himself and the team as much as possible. He was instrumental in helping build a foundation that the booster club still relies on today; that has teams and athlete’s helping out at different events to support athletics as well as the entire college. In 2003 Kevin finally got his big break and was able to go into coaching full-time. He joined Kim at the University of Nevada Reno as an assistant coach from 2003-2006. He then was the men’s assistant basketball coach at Lincoln University for the 2006-2007 season. From there he went back to the women’s side and joined that staff at University of Minnesota-Duluth for one season. In 2008 he became the assistant women’s coach at Southern Illinois-Edwardsville. He stayed there two years before receiving his first head coaching job at the University of Nebraska-Kearney. He is currently in his 2nd year and coaches former Solano player Ivy Jones who was the MVP of the Bay Valley Conference and 1st Team All State selection in the 2010-2011 season. Kevin received his Bachelor’s degree from San Diego State in 1979 and his MA degree from Southern Illinois-Edwardsville in 2010.

Mike Gibson

Mike’s football career began at age 8, playing Pop Warner football in Napa, Ca. Upon entering jr. high, no football program was available, but he returned to football in high school, and played 3 years of varsity football, but he was not considered a “Top” athlete until he was a senior.

While at Napa High he was All League, All Metro, 2nd Team All State, and MEL Lineman of the year. During his senior year Mike earned 9 awards in football alone. He also won 2 Football Conference Titles, while on the Wrestling, Basketball, and Baseball teams over the 4 years. Mike then played 2 years of Falcon Football at Solano College, earning All American accolades, two times All Bay Valley League, and All Pac 10 Honorable Mention awards before graduating. He then chose to attend Cal Berkeley. After playing all positions across the Cal Offensive Line, Mike was once referenced has the best “smallest tackle” by an NFL coach. At Cal, Mike won the Ken Cotton Award for “Most Courageous Player” based on his ability to pursue his goals, and never give up on his dream.

Prior to his senior year at Cal, Mike married his high school sweetheart, Jessi Emery. He played in the 2008 East West Shriner’s Game, making a lifelong friend of 3 year old Calder Hodge, a Shriner’s patient. During the 2008 Draft he was picked in the 6th round by the Philadelphia Eagles. He spent 08-09 with the Eagles, then went to the Seattle Seahawks in 09, 10, &11, returning to the Eagles in 2012. He was the starting right guard when the Seattle Seahawks won the 2010 NFC West Title, and started in 2 NFL playoff games. Other career highlights include being the Seahawks Starting Right Guard, blocking on the line and downfield for Marshawn Lynch during his 2010 touchdown run, considered one of the most memorable runs in NFL history. He returned to Solano last season to help coach Solano Football, a highlight of his year.
Andrea Rose Salvador

Andrea Rose Salvador, age 26, is the daughter of Ed Salvador and Clarice Perez. She played four seasons of varsity soccer and two seasons of varsity softball at Salesian High School in Richmond, CA. She was Most Valuable Player of the Bay Shore Athletic League her junior year and two-time 1st Team All-League selections. Andrea is a former Solano College soccer player and broke all scoring records with 40 goals and 22 assists, making her third in the state in points.
