EXHIBIT "A"
DESCRIPTION OF SERVICES TO BE PERFORMED BY CONSULTANT

Consultant's entire Proposal is not made part of this Agreement.

Task 1: Pre-Construction Survey for Avian and Bat Species

Pursuant to MM BIO-1 and MM BIO-2 of the project MMRP, FCS Biologists will ensure that the pre-construction survey covers all the required species analyzed. Following the review of existing information, a pre-construction survey of the project site will be conducted. Since the species involved are avian and bat species that have specific habitat requirements, all of these species will be combined into one survey effort. As part of the survey, we will identify the project site's current general biological conditions and map and identify any nests found with GPS. The field survey will focus on habitats within proximity to the site.

Upon completion of the field survey, we will prepare a letter report that outlines the methodology and findings, and if necessary any measures to avoid or otherwise minimize impacts to sensitive avian and bat species, including the installation of one-way exclusion devices if necessary. A map showing these resources (if any) will be included in the report.

Task 2: Archaeological Monitoring of Construction Related Ground Disturbance

Pursuant to MM CUL-1 of the project MMRP, a qualified FCS archaeologist will conduct full-time monitoring of all construction related grading and ground disturbing activities. FCS understands that the dates and duration of ground disturbing activity will be scheduled by the Contractor at a future date and cannot be predicted at this time. Based on FCS's previous experience with the SSC Science Building project, this scope of work assumes that one (1) qualified archaeological monitor at eight (8) hours a day, five (5) days a week, for a maximum total of 90 days will be sufficient to comply with the requirements of the MMRP. Thus, this task includes an allowance of up to 720 monitoring hours, at $110 per hour, including all associated costs. For your convenience, fees for this task will be provided as a single sum with a "not to exceed" limit and will be billed as utilized. The archaeological monitor will work closely with the district and the Tribal Cultural Monitor (under separate contract) to insure coverage over the course of the project.

We understand the construction and excavation schedule may vary and that a final schedule will be provided prior to the start of work. In order to insure monitoring coverage, a projected weekly work schedule should be provided to the FCS archaeological monitor no later than the preceding Friday, COB. Notification of schedule changes less than 48 hours in advance will be billed at a half-day rate, and any required monitoring over 8 hours a day or 40 hours a week will be billed at a 1.5x rate per California overtime laws. Should additional services be required, they will be captured in an augment to this scope of work as detailed below.

If additional monitoring days are required, or unexpected archaeological resources are encountered and determined to require additional testing or evaluation, a change order to conduct the required tasks will be provided to the client before any additional fieldwork takes place. The recovery, analysis and recordation of any inadvertently discovered resources will follow the guidelines laid forth in the project Mitigation Measures, the Secretary of Interior's standards, and will comply with all applicable state and federal requirements.

Task 3: Archaeological Monitoring Report

The archaeological monitor will keep a daily log and photographic record of all activities involving ground disturbance during the construction phase. The monitor's daily activities, findings, etc. will be supervised by the principal archaeologist, and will be summarized in a letter report as required by MM CUL-1 of the project MMRP. This scope of work assumes no additional resources will be discovered during the project construction phase. Should additional resources require recovery or recordation, they will be addressed in a separate scope of work.

Task 4: Meeting Attendance and Project Coordination

An FCS Senior archaeologist will coordinate all monitoring efforts and will be available to attend meetings with representatives of the district or the board as needed. This task line assumes up to two (2) in-person meetings will be required over the course of the project, and up to 20 additional staff hours will be needed for coordination over the course of the project. Should additional consultation or coordination efforts be required, they will be addressed in a separate scope of work.

Billing Rates

Archaeological Monitoring - $110 per hour
