Solano Theatre Presents: Getting Out and Clybourne Park

Are you ready to feel all sorts of ways about all sorts of taboo subjects, including racism, sexism, institutional-ism, rape, childbirth, the differently-abled, our justice system, socioeconomics, and more? Forgotten or mistreated members of our society, and problems we try to pretend have gone away. Come to feel, laugh and/or cry with us this season.

Solano College Theatre presents two shows at once, back to back, starting this Friday with "Getting Out" November 1st, and "Clybourne Park" November 2nd.

"Clybourne Park," a razor sharp satire about the politics of race. Written in response to Lorraine Hansberry's "A Raisin in the Sun," the two scenes, 50 years apart, are set in the same Chicago bungalow featured in Hansberry's masterpiece. In Act 2, roles are reversed when a young, white couple buys the house in a now predominately black neighborhood.

"Clybourne Park" runs Nov. 2 through Nov 17.

"Getting Out" examines the struggle of a woman fighting for her life after release from an Alabama State Prison. Arlene and her flash-back former self are battling to salvage her precarious stability when confronted by prison guards, her slatternly, unfeeling mother, and a pimp ex-boyfriend. The play, told with heart-rending honesty and compassion, offers no simple answers to the complexity of the struggle for a new beginning.

"Getting Out" runs Nov. 1 through Nov. 16.

Human Collective Project Benefits Housing Insecurity

THE HUMAN COLLECTIVE PRESENTS:

The Human Collective

The Human Collective

Vacaville Festival of Trees is the premier fundraiser for Opportunity House, Vacaville's homeless shelter, raising more than $2.1 million since its inception in 1991.

The Human Collective is proud to make donations to the Festival of Trees in an effort to provide our community with universal love and support.

There will be two 18 inch tall tree provided by the Human Collective to be decorated and donated to the festival.

There will be an additional three trees used as part of the club's fundraising efforts.

Donations can be made at the front desk at Vallejo & Vacaville and at room 904, bldg. 900 in Fairfield.

Students of The Human Collective (a student club) have a project that will help families with housing insecurity. In short, they will decorate 2 small (18 inch) trees. One will be a Marvel theme and the other Nightmare before Christmas. Please consider donating an item. In addition to these themed items, they need bells, stars, garland, etc to decorate the tree. They will accept anything you feel will make the tree festive.

These trees will then be auctioned at the Festival of Trees in Vacaville late November and proceeds will go to support members at the Opportunity House; this is a homeless shelter located in Vacaville.

Donations may be dropped into a bin in front of room 904, bldg. 900 at the Fairfield campus and into bins or front desk at the Centers. We need items by November 13th.

For more information, contact Dr. Saki Cabrera. Thanks for helping to support our community!

Every OCED student who chose to participate was given a digital photo and Andre was able to hone his portrait skills, build his professional portfolio, and work on one of his own Work Experience objectives. It was a great experience and a win-win for everyone!

Harvest Festival Benefits Students

On October 30th, the ASSC, with support from the Student Life Office created a Harvest Festival for the benefit of our students.

The ASSC provided pumpkin painting, a haunted house, and chili cheese hot dogs.

The event served nearly 150 students and a great time was had by all.

Each entry came up on stage and was judged on originality and presentation. This year's contest had a lot of participants and everyone had a fun time cheering on their classmates.

Athletics News

Men's Basketball: Despite holding a late lead, the Falcons dropped a 81-79 heartbreaker to Feather River in the season opener Friday afternoon at the Sierra Classic.

Sophomore Berry Roseborough led the Solano offense with 22 points, including six three-pointers.

Sophomore Dunnell Stafford backed him up with a double-double with 15 points.

The Solano men's basketball fell to West Valley, 83-70, in the second round of the George Goto Classic, hosted by Sierra College, on Saturday afternoon.

The Falcons (0-2) stay on the road, heading to the Skyline Open on Friday, Nov. 8. Solano will face Canada first at 5 p.m.

Women's Basketball: The Solano women's basketball team fell 85-68 to Sierra College in the first round of the Jocelyn Mancebo Classic, hosted by San Joaquin Delta, on Friday afternoon.

Despite a tight first half, Solano was unable to chip away at Sierra's six-point advantage to start the fourth quarter.

Sophomore Vanessa Hughes paced the Solano offense with 11 points, adding five boards. Sophomore Kaelee Campbell nearly hit a double-double with eight points and a team-high 11 rebounds.

The Solano women's basketball team capitalized on 33 forced turnovers in the Falcons' 81-42 rout of San Jose on Saturday afternoon in the second round of the Jocelyn Mancebo Classic, hosted by San Joaquin Delta.

Freshmen Ashmeen Sran and Lexi Derf led all scorers with 20 and 18 points, respectively, counting nine three pointers between them. Derf added five assists and three steals.

Sophomore Jada Scott led the efforts on the boards with a game-high nine, while tallying six assists and five steals.

The Falcons (1-1) came up short against Sequoias, 74-54, in the consolation championship match-up Sunday afternoon.

Volleyball: Sophomore Haley Del Rio and freshman Lindsey McLaughlin combined for 31 kills in the No. 22 Falcons' 20th win of the season, defeating Yuba in three on Friday evening. Set scores were 25-12, 25-9, 25-17.

Del Rio posted 19 kills and eight digs, while adding three aces. McLaughlin earned 12 kills, two blocks, and four aces. Freshman Kayla Somontan led the Falcons with nine digs with sophomore Ixchel Moreno adding eight.

Solano (20-5, 12-0) heads to Napa next on Wednesday, Nov. 6 for a 6 p.m. match. Only three matches remain in the regular season.

Soccer: The Solano women's soccer team blanked Contra Costa, 10-0, on Friday afternoon.

Sophomore Isabel Olmedo led the Falcons with two goals and two assists, while sophomore Karla Cardinal counted three assists and a goal of her own.

Solano scored six of their goals in the first half with Olmedo earning the first goal off a feed from freshman Keana Flynn in the third minute.
